HAPPY NEW YEAR

IMPORTANT INFORMATION ABOUT H.E.A.T.

The Texas H.E.A.T. (Help End Auto Theft) Program ceased operations as of December 31, 2013. The Auto Burglary and Theft Prevention Authority (ABTPA), part of the Texas Department of Motor Vehicles (TxDMV) announced that the Texas H.E.A.T. program which is administered by the Texas Department of Public Safety (TxDPS) ceased operations on Tuesday, December 31, 2013. The TxDPS will no longer accept new H.E.A.T. registrations and will no longer renew any existing registrations. Existing registrations, regardless of their expiration date, will be removed from the program effective December 31, 2013.

Vehicle owners who are currently registered in the H.E.A.T. program should remove the H.E.A.T. decals from the registered vehicles and destroy the decals.

The FWPD will continue to offer free Auto Etching. Please see page 9 for our 2014 Auto Etching Schedule.

During this time of year there is the possibility of facing inclement weather conditions. Are you prepared if your electricity, gas or water service is interrupted? How about being stranded in your vehicle for a period of time? Do you have an emergency kit for your vehicle or home? Visit the ready.gov site for some ideas. www.emergency.portal.texas.gov

Hello folks in the Rosemont Community. Well we made it through another holiday season and I am happy to say crime stayed down to a minimum. We did not have any large Crime trends in the Rosemont area. I thank you again for the hard work and watching out for Rosemont this past year. It shows, especially when I keep seeing the crime stats go down. I also want to thank our Citizens on Patrol from all areas that have come over to the Rosemont area to show support and patrol our area. It has made a large impact on crime and by reducing it to a nominal amount. Thank you all again. Remember to hide your valuables when leaving and lock your car at all times. I hope each and every one of you has a great and safe year in 2014. Until next time take care and be safe.

Merry Christmas and Happy New Year! The holiday shopping will stop and traffic will get back to normal, even though we don’t know what normal is. We worked a detail at the La Gran Plaza mall that I feel helped to keep the burglaries down over the holidays. I was lucky to pass out toys to families in need this year and I can’t begin to explain the experience. I encourage all to think about giving more every year and teach the young children that its not important what you get, but how you help someone who needs help. Until next time, take care of yourself and each other.

Well not much to report for the month of December; guess the bad and cold weather slowed the bad guys down. By the time you read this we are into the New Year, I hope everyone had a great and blessed holiday. Also we should have our new Captain, so make sure you come by and welcome him to South Division. Everyone stay safe, alert and report anything out of the ordinary.

S-15 by Officer Eddy Perez

I hope your Holidays were filled with joy and lets hope for an easy winter. By the time you get this newsletter South Division will have a new Captain. Captain Kraus is off to the Training Academy and we are getting Captain Ramirez, who was my Supervisor my rookie season many moons ago. I would encourage you to come by and introduce yourself to Captain Ramirez.

As always the crime rate is good on our Beat and that is a credit to the citizens who live in Rolling Hills. I encourage you to join the Glen Garden Civic League, Marie Love and all the Civic League Members do a great job!!

If you are interested in joining Citizens on Patrol we will be having classes Feb 15, 2014 at the Police Academy. Take Care
S-21 by Officer Brian Gilliam

HAPPY NEW YEAR!!! It appears we have all made it through another holiday season safely. I hope Christmas was as good to you as it was to my family. The Beat has been fairly quiet for the month of December at the time of writing this.

We will be getting a new Captain in January. Captain Krause will be moving to the Police Training Academy and Captain Ramirez will be taking his place. I know some of you hate to see Capt. Krause leave but, you will all like Capt. Ramirez.

Remember to be on the lookout for anyone suspicious in the neighborhood. Criminals will be driving around the neighborhood looking for who got the new televisions and anything else they can sell for money. Please take your big TV boxes to the dump yourself or make them small enough to fit inside the trash bins.

S-22 by Officer Travis Chromaster

It has been a relatively quite month on the Beat but, the holiday season will bring about more burglaries of homes and vehicles. If you’re planning on being out of town for the holidays have a neighbor keep an eye on your home and make it look as if someone is there at all times. Cut up or destroy the boxes as well as you can or take it to one of the drop off stations around the city. You can also call us and we will give you some extra patrol while you are gone. Don’t leave evidence of your gifts that you have bought or received by leaving the box that shows what you have at the curb. Drive safely while traveling and as always, if you see suspicious activity around residential properties don’t hesitate to call the Police to have it checked out. Keep taking care of your neighbors, stay alert and keep the valuables out of your cars at night!

Happy New Year to the citizens in the Hallmark/Camelot area. Now that 2013 has come to a crashing end we look forward to an even better 2014. The last month of the year was a little busier in the Hallmark/Camelot area. We had a slight rise in thefts and robberies along the South Freeway. However, the Beat had a pretty good year crime wise. I want to thank the Hallmark/Camelot Citizens on Patrol for their continued support in the neighborhood. Until next time, be safe.

Citizen on Patrol Training:
The next quarterly COP Training class will be Saturday February 15, 8 AM to 4 PM, Police & Fire Training Center, 1000 Calvert. After classroom training you are required to do a two-hour session in the Communication Division. You will also be required to do an eight-or ten-hour ride in with a patrol officer in the Division where you will be patrolling. Once you have accomplished these requirements, you will ride several times with and experience patroller in your area. Applications are available at www.fortworthpd.com.

Captain’s Community Meeting with COPS:
The next Captains Community Meeting with COP members is January 28, at 6:30 PM at 3128 W Bolt St. All COPs members are invited to attend. We’re going to do a radio training class so please bring your radio to the meeting.

Code Blue at the School:
We have started patrolling 2 school at this time, Rosemont and Hazel Harvey Peace Elementary. If you have been thru training and would like to help out or if you would like to go thru the training, please call Warner at 817-392-3418.

I hope everyone had a very Merry Christmas and a good start for the New Year. Other than a slight cold I had a very nice Christmas and New Year spending time with family. As for issues on the Beat last month; December was a very slow month on the Beat. There are several reasons for that. During the holiday season most offenses are concentrated in the business areas with shoplifting going up and burglaries of vehicles at businesses as well. There is normally a reduction in crimes in residential areas not only because criminals focus on business areas but the cold weather has an effect too, and we all remember the ice storm in December that pretty much closed the city down. It not only closed the city but it closed down a lot of criminals too.

Now that the Christmas season is over it’s time for the “review of our bills and credit cards” season. I strongly suggest that everyone look over their bills, credit card and bank accounts very carefully. There have been several news reports of criminals getting a hold of millions of credit and debit card account numbers, most notably from Target. Please review all your accounts and if you see anything unusual contact your credit card company or bank immediately.

S-32 by Officer Ross Williamson

Greetings all, The holidays have now come and gone. I hope you had a wonderful time with family and friends. The Beat had four burglaries of habitations, six vehicle burglaries and one theft reported this month. The number one crime was theft! Theft you say? Yes, theft! This year the bad guys followed the UPS drivers around and removed delivered packages from your front porch. This was a common occurrence in the Wedgewood South and Candleridge neighborhoods. We had multiple suspects and suspect vehicles doing this type of offense throughout the division. Make sure to track your packages and notify UPS immediately if you did not receive your items. Chances are the got stolen off your porch.

Happy New Year folks! I look forward to this year, 2014 is going to be a good one. Take care until next time.

S-33 by Officer Mike Vargas

Hello everyone. I hope everyone is well. This past year was a great year, minus a hic up here and there. The last couple of months have looked really good on S-33’s Beat, with very little activity in the grand scheme of things. The streak was broken during Christmas with a robbery of a business in the 8500 block of S Hulen. The good news is no one was hurt physically, and a suspect was caught and taken into custody. Kudos to our South Division Officers!

I hope everyone had a wonderful Christmas and a Happy New Year! Let’s make 2014 another great year.

S-34 by Officer Vince Brown

Hello Everyone, I hope you all had a very Merry Christmas and a safe New Year’s Day. This is definitely a busy time of year for all of us. Between work, family and friends, and holiday festivities, there never seems to be enough time in the day. As always, the criminals are busy at work also. During this time of year, we normally see an increase in burglaries. This year has been no different. One pair or team of thieves can commit several offenses in a relatively short amount of time. This problem can be compounded when new boxes from Christmas presents (computer boxes, flat screen TVs, etc) are placed on the curb for trash collection. This gives them a preview of the items inside your home, which make your house a more attractive target. Take the time to place these cartons inside the blue recyclable containers. If this is not possible, then consider taking them to one of many collection points for cardboard.

As always, please help us help you, by reporting suspicious activity in your neighborhoods. Report unauthorized use of vacant houses, strange vehicles parked in the street for an extended time, and unfamiliar persons loitering in the area. Have a safe and happy 2014, and remember to keep involved.
S-41 by Officer RJ West

Hello, Last newsletter of the year, first newsletter of the year...not sure which one this is, not sure it matters...let's move along.

Every year we look back at the past year and recap events that we all lived through. I really, really don't like that. We were all here, we know what happened, or didn't happen and how it affected us. You do not need me to give you my spin on it. So this year I promise I won't do any of that. Besides there is something else I feel I need to share with you. I hope you enjoy it.

"HOPE NOT TO HOPE FOR HOPE"

Wikipedia defines hope as follows: Hope is the state which promotes the desire of positive outcomes related to events and circumstances in one's life or in the world at large. Despair is often regarded as the opposite of hope. Hope is the "feeling that what is wanted can be had or that events will turn out for the best" or the act of "look[ing] forward to something with desire and reasonable confidence" or "feel[ing] that something desired may happen". Other definitions include: "to cherish a desire with anticipation"; "to desire with expectation of obtainment"; or "to expect with confidence". In the English language the word can occur either as a noun or as a verb, although hope as a concept has a similar meaning in either use.

With that said please allow me to clarify my position on the past and coming years. Last year, I, like many of you had hoped for many things. Some of those things I now have, others still remain out of my grasp. A few of the things I hoped for last year were a little lofty to say the least. I hoped for a "better" world, (feel free to define better how ever you like). I'm not sure the world is much better now than then.

I had hoped for "peace" (world peace, peace of mind, piece of pie!) of these, I've seen too little of the first two, and probably a bit too many of the later.

I had hoped for "hope" (that people would continue to believe that things can, do, and will get better) however I don't always think that's how many of us feel. I see television shows where people "prepare" to survive the end of the world (and are graded on their efforts by a panel of experts, who have yet to survive the end of the world...but are experts just the same). I know too many people (you know who you are, and yes I am talking about you) stockpiling weapons and ammo in case of societal breakdown, economic slowdown, environmental meltdown or "zombie attack" (I'm pretty sure that's "code" for something else. Can't say for certain), they have stashed caches of food and water, and practiced and planned 2nd Amendment countermeasures to prevent anyone from gaining, getting or in anyway sharing in any of their treasures.

Far too many of us are convinced that "its going down man!" soon. Although I don't agree with this position, I understand this position, and I understand why so many people feel the way they do: they have given up hope. Its easy to understand why: hope is hard to hold onto. One need only look back at the events of last year (which I am not going to list here, like I promised. Pick your personal favorite worst moment, that's one of the ones to which I refer here) and you see why it would be easy to lose hope.

I said all of this to say that for the coming year: I HOPE NOT TO HOPE. At the very least; not hope for hope. This year I hope that the need for hope is no longer needed. This year I hope we find whatever it is we have been hoping to find, I hope that all of your hopes are fulfilled, I hope that next year the need for hope is replaced by the need to express gratitude and joy. This year I hope that next year I will find what I hoped for this year I don't need to hope for next year...??? (I hope you know what I mean)

I'm not giving up hope. I just hope that my hope is not in vain (and I hope I'm not the only one). HAPPY NEW YEAR

I hope that everyone enjoyed the holiday season. The month of December didn't seem to put too much of a damper on S-43's Beat as far as property crimes. From what I counted, we had eight residential burglaries and eight vehicle burglaries. I would love to see those numbers lowered in the month of January. Continue to safeguard your property and report any suspicious activity.

Let your resolution be to do God's will this year. Happy New Year!

Howdy Folks and Welcome back to the South end of town and to a new year. I hope you had a wonderful Holiday Season. I do not have much to report this time because I took off the week of Christmas and most of the following week. Hopefully your 2014 will be better than your 2013. I have noticed a new trend on my Beat mainly in the Garden Acres area and that is that someone is renting out houses that do not belong to them. Folks are finding houses for rent on different web sites and contacting the people via email or other communication devices. The suspect then gives them the code to the key box and tells them to go look at it. When the potential renter contacts them again, the same way as before, they are told to send a deposit by way of a cashiers check. Then the renter can no longer get into contact with the suspect after the check is sent. I have not figured out exactly how the suspect's are doing this yet but we are working on it. There have been three cases of this on my Beat that I know of so far. So if you plan on renting/buying a house, do your homework. Make sure the place really is for sale or rent and that who you are talking to is the actual owner. The last case I read the house was empty but it was not even for sale or lease at the time. That does it for now, as always have a Great Day and a Better Tomorrow....The Original Hummer

I hope everyone had a great Christmas and Happy New Year. I was able to take the week of Christmas off, so I am well rested for the New Year. Well at least as much as you can be after Christmas. I did the crime stats for the last two weeks since I was off. We survived the holidays. Everything looked pretty average. We had nine Part I offenses for the period. Seven of those were residential burglaries. We had two Part I’s the second week and started the month out with ten for the first week. I’m glad things slowed down some because the Beat started out kind of rough for December. I will say that all the offenses were theft related. We didn’t have any crimes against persons for the month and that is good since a lot of people get desperate around the holidays. We fared pretty good considering some of the other areas.

I was reflecting over 2013 and wondering what our area needed for 2014. I think what stood out the most is the need for more help. I think it has been about three years since we have added a new patroller to the Beat. We have had people turn in applications and we have even had people go through the training, but for whatever reason they have not completed all of the training. I wish I could give some people waivers to help get them on the streets quicker, but the training is set up the way it is for a reason. I believe everyone needs to go through the same training as all of you did. Just in case anyone was wondering there is no talk of shortening or anything like that with the COP training. I don’t want to start any rumors. With the new year comes change. We will be getting a new Captain in the next few weeks. Captain Kraus is being transferred to the Academy and we will be getting Captain Ramirez. Another change to look forward to is another radio update for the COP’s. With the update radios means an evaluation of who needs a radio. We can’t keep handing out radios to people that don’t patrol when we have other groups in the city that don’t have enough radios for all their group members. I know life is busy and things come up. I am sensitive to that. I have four children and believe me I know things happen. With that said, we have some people that have not logged any time this year of patrolling. I and your neighborhood need everyone we can get out patrolling. I don’t want to have to take radios from members. I would rather have you patrolling the neighborhoods. I can’t make anyone patrol, but we have to use our resources where they are needed. If the COP program has become too much of a commitment for you at this time, then let me know and when life slows down we can get another radio issued. 2014 we need everyone out helping out. If possible we need to put some more patrollers on the street too or get some in active member too much of a commitment for you at this time, then let me know and when life slows down we can get another radio issued. 2014 we need everyone out helping out. If possible we need to put some more patrollers on the street too or get some in active member active again. If anyone knows of anyone who might be interested, please let me know. I always carry COP applications with me in case I need everyone out helping out. If possible we need to put some more patrollers on the street too or get some in active member active again. If anyone knows of anyone who might be interested, please let me know. I always carry COP applications with me in case I get asked for one.

I wanted to end the year and the newsletter with letting each group know how appreciative I am of all of you. The ones that get up early to make sure kids get on the bus safely. The ones that patrol the businesses areas on the weekend when they are closed. The ones that go out when everyone is in bed. The ones that patrol in the 100 degree heat and even the ones that patrol when gas is $3.50 a gallon. Thanks you to all of you. Our Beat has had a good year. Our patrollers have worked hard all year and I am proud of all of you who have been out there. If there is something that you need from me please let me know. I want to help all our groups be better and maintain the commitment that we have. Thanks for a good 2013 and I look forward to a better 2014 with everyone.

It doesn't matter what kind of car you drive, all vehicles are a potential target of theft. Nearly 65,000 cars and trucks are stolen in the state of Texas each year, and thousands more are burglarized. Almost half of all vehicles stolen had the keys left inside.

Protect your Vehicle

- Hide your valuables. Items in the open make your car a bigger target.
- Take your keys and never leave a second set in your vehicle. Twenty percent of stolen vehicles had keys inside them, making the theft even easier.
- Lock your car. Almost half of all vehicles stolen were left unlocked.
- Park in well-lit or heavily-trafficked areas. Thieves do not like witnesses. Find an attended lot or garage if possible.
- Give parking attendants the ignition key only. Keep your trunk and glove box locked at all times. If possible, get separate keys for the ignition and the trunk and glove box.
- Never leave your car running unattended. Cars are often stolen at convenience stores, gas stations or when an owner leaves the vehicle running to warm it up.
- Install an anti-theft device. Many insurance companies may give you a discount for certain anti-theft devices. Check with your agent for details. Anti-theft devices include:
  - Ignition or fuel kill switches. Kill switches are inexpensive devices that disable the car until being disengaged.
  - Visible steering wheel, floorboard, tire or gearshift locks. These locks disables key components of the vehicle, rendering it immobile.
  - Hood locks. These prevent the thief from gaining access to your engine, security system or battery.
  - Armored collar around the steering column. Collars protect the column and ignition from tampering.
  - Alarms. Security systems are common and make loud warning sounds when the car is opened.
  - Optional sensors may detect glass breaking, motion, tampering and towing.
  - Vehicle tracking. A hidden transmitter enables police to track the car (may not be available in all areas).

DECEMBER – No Etching Due to Extreme Weather

NOTE: If you have questions about any of the listed dates, times or locations, call the telephone number listed for that month.
Every day, law enforcement officers around the state who specialize in cyber crimes investigations work tirelessly to identify and locate potential child sex predators who troll Internet chat rooms for underage victims. Since its launch in 2003, the Office of the Attorney General’s Cyber Crimes Unit has arrested 150 suspects who used the Internet to prey upon children – and we often do so by pairing up with local and federal law enforcement officers.

In a series of undercover sting operations during the month of June, for example, our cyber crimes officers teamed with officers in the Round Rock Police Department and the FBI to identify, locate and arrest eight suspected child predators in Williamson and northern Travis counties. All eight suspects were charged with online solicitation of a minor, a felony punishable by at least two years in prison.

During the undercover operation, Cyber Crimes Unit officers identified and arrested three suspected online predators who placed or responded to online advertisements seeking sexual encounters with children. In one case, investigators determined that Emmanuel Alejandro Gonzalez, 27, had posted an online advertisement seeking sexual activity. When someone he thought was a 15-year-old girl responded to the advertisement, Gonzalez conducted sexually graphic online chats with her and arranged to meet her in Round Rock. The “girl” was actually an undercover Cyber Crimes Unit investigator. Cyber Crimes Unit officers identified and arrested Gonzalez, transporting him to the Round Rock Police Department.

Cyber Crimes Unit officers also arrested five suspects who initiated online chats on social networking sites to sexually proposition children. One of the suspects arrested was Noel Santos Torres, a 31-year-old restaurant chain manager. According to investigators, Torres initiated online chats and exchanged sexually graphic text messages with someone he thought was a 15-year-old girl. The “girl” was actually an undercover Cyber Crimes Unit officer. Torres sexually propositioned the girl and arranged to meet her on June 12 at a location in Round Rock. Cyber Crimes Unit officers identified and arrested Torres when he arrived at the meeting.

We are grateful to the local, state and federal law enforcement officials from Central Texas who helped make these eight arrests possible and continue to work with the Cyber Crimes Unit to protect Texas families. The results of our undercover summer sweep demonstrate that collaboration between state and federal authorities and police and sheriff’s departments statewide offers the best pathway to success.

Another key to our unified approach to encouraging cyber safety and protecting children online is parental involvement. Cyber predators pose a constant and very real threat to young Texans’ safety and well-being, so Texas parents must remain vigilant to their children’s online activity. Specifically, parents must remind their children and teenagers about the potentially dangerous criminals hiding behind seemingly benign online profiles or online advertisements.

Since criminals use today’s technology to be more creative in their illegal pursuits, parents should also establish boundaries for children’s mobile phone usage. Our Cyber Crimes Unit officers have arrested several sexual predators – including some of those taken into custody during our summer sweep – who used wireless devices in an attempt to call or text children. These communications often include sexually explicit language or images intended to lure children into a sexual encounter. Wireless devices that allow users to surf the Internet may also give children an opportunity to go online and access sexually explicit content, chat rooms and social networking sites without a parent’s knowledge.

Texas families seeking more information about cyber safety should access the Attorney General’s website at www.texasattorneygeneral.gov, which includes publications, videos and tips from cyber investigators on making the Internet a safe and valuable tool for families.

POINTS TO REMEMBER Cyber safety tips

Parents can establish safe online environments for children and teens by setting the following boundaries:

Internet access
- Place the computer in a public room at home. Do not permit children or teens to use Web cameras.
- Make sure children know never to agree to a face-to-face meeting with someone they meet online and never to divulge personal information to an Internet stranger.
- Establish ground rules, including the hours children and teens may be online and the kinds of websites they may visit.

Wireless devices
- Teach children and teens to avoid calling or texting people they don’t already know.
- Save any inappropriate images or texts a child or teen receives and provide them to law enforcement officials.
- Use the wireless service provider’s parental controls to monitor and manage children’s cell phone use.

Make sure all tools and ladders are properly secured. Tools can be used to facilitate entry by a burglar. A ladder makes it easy for a burglar to make entry through an upstairs window or even onto the roof where it might be easier to break in.
